

SCRUMstudy Scrum Product Owner Certified (SPOC®) - training with exam

SCRUMstudy is a global certification body in the field of Scrum and Agile. It is also the author of the SBOK™ Guide, a comprehensive guide supporting the implementation of projects using Scrum.

SCRUMstudy is over:

- 750,000 students trained in effective project delivery
- 5,000 students certified monthly in Scrum and Agile
- 7,500 companies from 150 countries (including Fortune 500 companies such as Apple, IBM, HP, Bank of America, AT&T, Dell, Verizon, Lockheed Martin, and PepsiCo) that trust and accept SCRUMstudy certification

Purpose of the training

Scrum Product Owner Certified (SPOC®) is a training course addressed to every person who is to act as a Product Owner. Product Owner represents business stakeholders in the Scrum team. It is also commonly known as the "voice of the customer". The Product Owner is responsible for ensuring efficient communication of expectations regarding the functionality of the product or service. It also prioritizes the delivery of individual requirements by the Scrum team, taking into account the point of view of the end user and its goals, so that the product or service provided by the Scrum team brings maximum business benefits. The Product Owner also defines the acceptance criteria and controls and ensures their fulfillment.

Benefits of completing the training

The aim of the Scrum Product Owner Certified (SPOC™) training is for its participants to gain practical knowledge about Scrum, which will prepare them to implement and work in the Scrum environment in the organization supporting, developing and maintaining SCRUM framework to maximise value output from project teams. After completing the training, each participant receives access to the examination platform. The aim of the exam is to confirm that the training participants have gained the necessary theoretical foundations to apply Scrum in projects and have knowledge of how to adapt it to specific scenarios that may appear in the company environment.
